If Love Whispers Your Name

Richard Thompson

Next time I promise
I will be ready
Ready to move when the clouds roll apart
Next time I promise
I will do better
When the sun shines on me and pierces my heartIf love whispers your name
Breathes in your ear
Sighs in the rain
Love is worth every fall
Even to beg
Even to crawlI won't act so cool
I Won't be the fool
Next time
And I won't quote the law
Won't be so sure
Next time'Cause I once had it all and
I once lost it all and
I won't miss again
If the chance should come my way
If love should look my wayIf love whispers your name
Breathes in your ear
Sighs in the rain
Love is worth every fall
Even to beg
Even to crawlI won't act so cool
I Won't be the fool
Next time
And I won't quote the law
Won't be so sure
Next time'Cause I once had it all and
I once lost it all and
I won't miss again
If the chance should come my way
If love should look my wayIf love whispers your name
Breathes in your ear
Sighs in the rain
Love is worth every fall
Even to beg
Even to crawlLove is worth every wound

Each lonely day,
Each sleepless night
Love is worth every wound
The price that you pay
To live in the light
