

Time Is a Jailer

Anouk

No one can hear me 'cause no one's around
But I still hear your whisper in the dark
I know I can go, I know I can leave whenever I please
But time is a jailer for me A face in the window looking inside
No one else sees it, I know
And now that you've found that the years have changed
What the ending will be, time's just a jailer for me I shut out the light, alone in the dark
This time of night is the hardest part Now that you've found that years have changed
What the ending will be, time's just a jailer for me I still hear your whisper, your heels on the floor
I wait for the sound of your key in the door
It's only the sound of nothing at all and so it must be
That time is a jailer for me It's only the sound of nothing at all, so it must be
Time is a jailer for me
It's only the sound of nothing at all, so it must be
Time is a jailer for me Time's just a jailer for me
Time's just a jailer for me
