Number Changed

Danny Fernandes

(The number you have dialed has been changed)
I tried to call you but you number changed (your number changed)
I never thought that you would walk away (I never thought that you would walk away)
I tried to call you but you number changed (your number changed)
I thought we'd last to see another day (I thought we'd last to see another day)
I tried to call you but you number changed (your number changed)
I never thought that you would walk away (I never thought that you would walk away)
When you left me, I couldn't even weather the storm and it's been rainning down on me since the day you've been gone when I called you, I couldn't get through to your phone
I dialed your number but all I'm getting is a busy tone
I'm calling, I'm waiting
you're heartless, so crazy
I wish that I can leave you alone (I wish that I can leave you alone)
I'm falling, I'm breaking
my heart is still acking
I wish that I can leave you alone (I wish that I can leave you alone)
than i pick up my phone
I tried to call you but you number changed (your number changed)
I thought we'd last to see another day (I thought we'd last to see another day)

I tried to call you but you number changed (your number changed)
I never thought that you would walk away (I never thought that you would walk away)
I loved you to death girl, maybe I'm the one that was wrong and now I add a touch, I haven't felt your touch in so long I take a step back, but everytime i try to move on the memories hold me and I gotta pick up the phone I'm calling, I'm waiting
you're heartless, so crazy
I wish that I can leave you alone (I wish that I can leave you alone)
I'm falling, I'm breaking
my heart is still acking
I wish that I can leave you alone (I wish that I can leave you alone)
than i pick up my phone
I tried to call you but you number changed (your number changed)
I thought we'd last to see another day (I thought we'd last to see another day)
I tried to call you but you number changed (your number changed)
I never thought that you would walk away (I never thought that you would walk away)
I tried to call you but you number changed (your number changed)

I wish that I can leave you alone (I thought we'd last to see another day)
I tried to call you but you number changed (your number changed)
I wish that I can leave you alone (I never thought that you would walk away)
than I pick up my phone...
