Over You

Darling Violetta

I sleep, I feel you here
Brush the hair away from your eyes
The water takes you there
You run, but you don't hide

You wait for an excuse
To sleep away your revolution
You might as well give up
Ever after's begun... oh no

I won't get over you this time
I won't get over you this time
I won't get over you this time
I won't get over you this time

What if one day you knew
The secrets of the universe and
Your breath became divine
You're an omnipresent man

No need for alibis
You'd die to live another lifetime
How is the lilac wine
Over there on the other side

I won't get over you this time
I won't get over you this time
I won't get over you this time
I won't get over you this time

Look around outside your bubble
Look into these eyes and then say you don't know
Don't speak, not another word now
Look into these eyes and then say you don't

You wanna go down slow
You wanna go down, be on your way
You gotta go down slow
No, no, no, no, no, no

I won't get over you this time
I won't get over you this time
I won't get over you this time
I won't get over you this time
