

Forget Sunset

Scan the Sky

Broken your eyes,
Stare back at you
But this mirror wasn't made for one
You know that when they're here Cause distance
Is damage
And these words
I cant speak
Dont fade away Trust me I know
Things are changing
And I know
That I'll never fade from you Second retake
Youre nervous now
The longer you wait you know that they'll
Grow farther away Cause distance
Is damage
And these words
I cant speak
Dont fade away Trust me I know
Things are changing
And I know
That I'll never fade from you
So forget the sunset
(It still looks faint to me)
We don't need anything
Just promise me I wont walk alone I would sing about our love
But it would hurt too much
Cause new love is gained
Only at someones loss I believe in you
(This still looks faint to me)
I believe in you
(This still looks faint to me) But I can't sing about this love
When all I know is the sun will set
And I can't sing about this love
When all I know is what we were
