Saving the World

Brooke Fraser

Didn't I tell you everything's fine?
If there's a good and bad we're somewhere in between Often I feel like we're all navigating blind
Could we get a change of pace to set the sceneWe could stay another day in this confusion
Let it permeate us 'till we can't move on[Chorus]
And while we're waiting we could try saving the world
Or are we storing that up for a rainy day?
I'm anticipating the time when it'll be my turn
It could be fun to try
I think that I'll save the world as a fun afternoon activitySeventy thousand things to ponder today
The most significant are bottom of the list
Forty five million recipes and ways
To exaggerate and compound the stressWe could stay another day in this apathy
Let it permeate us 'till we're numb through[Chorus]Ooh.....And while we're waiting we could try saving the world
Or are we storing that up for a rainy day?
I'm anticipating the time when it'll be my turn
It could be fun to try
I think that I'll save...And while we're waiting we could try saving the world
Or are we storing that up for a rainy day?
I'm anticipating the time when it'll be my turn
It could be fun to try
I think that I'll save the world.

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/