We Ended Right

Debby Ryan

Whoa whoa
I step back take a look in your direction
See in the reflection the same single man
That had taken you for granted
Like water in the desert I didn't think it'd happen
But I guess it had to happen
Staring at the glass eyes in a trance
As you walk through the grass with my shadow in the past
And I know that this moments gonna last my life
Why? Cus it happens all the time
I won't throw it all away with everything
I want you back here can't you see?
Please refrain from opening skies
Your time came with the rain but now it's dry
Gonna take more than just time
We ended right as you cut the ties with knives of lies
I know it doesn't matter everything I've said
And I told you once again
Cus your mind is pretty set
Yeah you noticed what I did but do I deserve this?
Okay maybe yeah so it's probably the end
But think about the truth all I gave to you
Never once a lie no not a single time
Not until tonight and that's where you are so right
To put up a fight and leave me all alone with your goodbyes

I won't throw it all away with everything
I want you back here can't you see?
Please refrain from opening skies
Your time came with the rain but now it's dry
Gonna take more than just time
We ended right as you cut the ties with knives of lies
And I know I did you wrong
But now it's said and done
And I'm sorry I'm sorry
Yeah I took and broke your heart
And your world was torn apart
But I'm sorry I'm sorry
[2x]I need you so

You need to know
We ended right
But why?
Please refrain from opening skies
Your time came with the rain but now it's dry
Gonna take more than just time
We ended right as you cut the ties with knives of lies
Please refrain from opening skies
Your time came with the rain but now it's dry
Gonna take more than just time
We ended right as you cut the ties with knives of lies

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/