

Reason to Love (Acoustic)

Our Last Night

Here's another morning
Where I can't decide to sleep or stay awake
And I'm tangled up in thoughts

Thoughts of how we fell apartI tried to make it work but all you did was make it worse

And all you've done is leave me hopeless
Ever since that day you made those feelings go away
And I've needed someone to show me that

That there's a reason to love
That there's a reason to love againEven with a warning
I couldn't have fixed us to save my life

It's hard when you're alone to pick up the piecesI tried to make it work but all you did was make it worse

And all you've done is leave me hopeless
Ever since that day you made those feelings go away
And I've needed someone to show me that
That there's a reason to love
That there's a reason to love again
