

Falling Down (Live 2007)

The Birthday Massacre

Farewell, this blackened eye
You learned your lessons falling down
Far behind and tracing footsteps homeDespite your lack of pride
    You wore your imperfections well
    Dignified, spend your time alone
Trace your footsteps homeYour hands are always reaching out of favor
    Your kind are only good for bad behavior
    Your mouth was never one to trust
You're always speaking out, falling far behind
    Falling out of lineFarewell, this bitter tongue
    You spoke your lessons falling down
Talking out and breaking silenceDespite the harm you've done
    You swallowed your rejection well
    Amplified, sing your song alone
Trace your footsteps homeYour hands are always reaching out of favor
    Your kind are only good for bad behavior
    Your mouth was never one to trust
You're always speaking out, falling far behind
    FallingSwallow time, falling down
    Speaking out, falling far behind
    Your time running out and talking down
Falling out of lineYour hands are always reaching out of favor
    Your kind are only good for bad behavior
    Your mouth was never one to trust
You're always speaking out, falling far behind
    Falling out of line
