

You've Changed

Burning Image

You said last night that it's all over
You chewed me up and spit me out
Just like some gum left on the sidewalk
I'm getting stepped on, I'm getting stepped onI've seen you once since last December
I asked you how your life has been going
You're not the one that I remember
You're so much different, you're much too differentYou've changed
You've changedYou ask me how my life's been going
I told you once to shut your mouth
These fucking walls, they're falling on me
Somebody help me, somebody help me
