Save Myself

ZOEgirl

Stop
Take a minute take a breath
From the pressure that we need to know why
What makes you alive
Why
Rely on ourselves
Putting God up on a shelf we depend
On what's left in our headsIt feels right and we believe
There won't be no sudden leave
But we keep running faster
Isn't it so nice to think
If we live in harmony
There'd be a happy ever afterIt doesn't matter if I
Had faith to move a mountain
Drink the Ocean Dry
Baby, I could never save myself
It Doesn't matter if I
Could reach into the deepest Corners of my mind
Baby, I could never save myselfStop
Putting God in a box
Spend our time watching the clock While we wait
For a release that will take us away
Come down with a crash
Until we have another chance to go back
Is that gonna make it OK?Hold your breath and you will see
In the end you'll have to breath
But we keep running faster
Fast
We forget reality
If you fall you're gonna bleed
There is no happy ever afterIt doesn't matter if I
Had faith to move a mountain
Drink the Ocean Dry
Baby, I could never save myself
It Doesn't matter if I
Could reach into the deepest Corners of my mind
Baby, I could never save myselfFalling out under sorrow
Glimpses of the past of what I used to think
And who I used to be

I'm realizing all that's real that I have in me
It doesn't matter
You better fight the laws of gravity
It doesn't matter
If I start it overIt doesn't matter if I
Had faith to move a mountain
Drink the Ocean Dry
Baby, I could never save myself
It Doesn't matter if I
Could reach into the deepest Corners of my mind
Baby, I could never save myselfIt doesn't matter if I
Had faith to move a mountain
Drink the Ocean Dry
Baby, I could never save myself
It Doesn't matter if I
Could reach into the deepest Corners of my mind
Baby, I could never save myselfSave myself
Save myself
Save myself
Save myself
