

The Crestfallen

Soilwork

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

Don't question any lies, there's no reason to find
Another trip to cause a denial
Yet you're stripped and your hope is gone
Another trap for you to fall into
You swallow every threat that comes to your mind, into your mind
A shadow just as dark as your past
Is leading your way through a web of desire
Healing all the wounds in your chest
Vengeance is rising
Can I ever resolve if it's a matter of do or die?
(Can I ever resolve?)
Can I ever resolve if it's a matter of time?
Just remember where have you spent your time
Can't respect all the tears you have cried
Just remember how you've changed your life
Can't trace your fate with a pitiful crime, pitiful crime
Don't question any lies, there's no reason to find
Another trip to cause a denial
Yet you're stripped and your hope is gone
Another trap for you to fall into
Can I ever resolve, if it's a matter of do or die?
Can I ever resolve, if it's a matter of time?
(Can I ever resolve?)
Just remember where have you spent your time
Can't respect all the tears you have cried
Just remember how you've changed your life
Can't trace your fate with a pitiful crime
There's no way that you can dig much deeper
If you think it's alright
Assorting the right from the wrong ones
That you have learned so well
(So well)
You're stuck, you can't remember
Your life is turning dim
You're trapped although you've been there
A thousand times before
You're stuck, you can't remember
Your life is turning dim
You're trapped although you've been there
A thousand times before
Crestfallen be thy name
Crestfallen be thy name
