We Are All Hunted

Andy Gray & Gary Numan

You've been looking for my reasons
I've been looking for the things you'll never see
You've been following the path I'm taking
It will lead you to a place where nothing leaves
Sometimes I forget that I'm the hunted
Every shadow is a voice that needs mine
Sometimes I forget that you're not real
Then I hear you whisper "what is it all?"
But after I've left
So this is my end, my last temptation
I am no one, I am something obscene
I am darkness, and I am calling for you
Calling for you
So this is my end, my one obsession
I am nothing, I am nothing at all
I am never, and I have come here for you
Come here for you
So this is my end, my one true possession
I take nothing, nothing yet to breathe in
I am a lie, and I surrender to you
Surrender to you
Have you a question for the hunted missing?
Have you a question for the man I'll never be?
Can you forgive me?
Can they forgive you?
Can they forgive you?
