Middle Child

Daniel Romano

I was left alone
A long time ago
By my mother, who I never got to know
Faded memories of my life
Have been washed in whiskey nights
And I'm living at the bottom of the bottleI've spent my life on a barstool all alone
Never knowing why she sent me from my home
Was there something wrong with me
That no one else could see?
What's the reason
Only I got turned away?Mama, please tell me why
You would leave just me behind
You sent me off and then you went and have my brothers
Before me, a little girl
And they're the center of your world
Mama, tell me, why'd you leave the middle child?I should've gone back home
And asked her to her face
But my life's become too much of a disgrace
And I got the news today
Saying mama passed away
So I'll never know the reason I'm alone
