Femininity

Nick Monaco

Oh, what you do to me, yeah yeah Quietly your silhouette approaches me A vision far too lovely to define, hey yeah Tenderly you take complete control of me The feminine seduction of body, soul and mind, yeah Touch me and I feel your femininity Girl, you're the lady women want to be Softly you move when you're making love to me Love me every night with femininity A child of innocence is how you look at me But it's the woman's touch that makes it feel so right, so right Your lips consume my deepest sensitivity It feels so good it makes me wanna cry Touch me and I feel your femininity Girl, you're the lady women want to be Softly you move when you're making love to me Love me every night with femininity Oh, oh, oh, femininity Oh, femininity

> Let me feel myself inside you once again I love the way you say it's just for me A lady in the purest sense of elegance But when the lights go down girl You're making love strong, wild and free Touch me and I feel your femininity Girl, you're the lady women want to be Softly you move when you're making love to me Love me every night with femininity Touch me and I feel your femininity Girl, you're the lady women want to be Softly you move when you're making love to me Love me every night with femininity I like the way you take control of me You have a little certain quality Not many girls would ever dare to be The lady that you are femininity I like the way you take control of me
