Final Words

The Briggs

What was that sound?
I can't remember what just happened
Lyin' in this pool of blood
Is this real or am I dreamin'?They called an ambulance
And someone's talkin' to me in another language
In distance I hear this song
Will they remember you when you're gone?What happened today
Can never happen againSo is this really it?
I thought things would be very different
Forgot got to kiss my wife
Forgot to tell my kids goodbyeSo can I leave a message?
Just one last thing before I go
Regret these things I've done
It's too late now to tell someoneWhat happened today
Can never happen againWill these be my final words?
Will they remember me for somethin'?
Will these be my final words?
Will they remember me for somethin'?So is this really it?
Well, I thought things were gonna be different
I forgot to kiss my wife
I forgot to tell my kids goodbyeWhat happened today
Can never happen againWill these be my final words?
Will they remember me for somethin'?
Will these be my final words?
Will they remember me for somethin'?Will these be our final words?
Will they remember us for somethin'?
Will these be our final words?
Will they remember us for somethin'?
