Someone Believed

Highway 101

She lives on a farm in Southern Oklahoma
She's never been far away from home
Her Mom and her Daddy worked all of their lives
To make their little girl a homeShe hides out in the woods with her movie magazines
Her Mama says, God frowns on those kind of things
And she stares out her window in a far-away dream
Far from the wheat fields of homeAnd the seasons keep passin' along
Youll know when its time to leave
Theres a new star on the screen tonight
Only cause she believedHe was born in the heart of a cold Eastern city
Growin' up with the sounds of cars and machines
A doctor, a lawyer or a great politician
His family hopes thats what hell beBut hes got visions of cattle drives out in Wyoming
Riders on horseback and rodeo scenes
And he knows all he needs is to buy an old pick-up
And drive West till he finds his dreamAnd the seasons keep passin' along
Youll know when its time to leave
Another cowboy rides the range tonight
Only cause he believedSomeone, somewhere sittin' all alone
Could be any boy or girl
Waiting for their time to come
With a dream to change the worldAnd the seasons keep passin' along
Youll know when its time to leave
Theres a dream coming true tonight
Only cause someone believed

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/