Elysian Fields

Elysian Fields

And the angels shall spread their wings to fly away
And by the sunset He shall grovel
Grovel before the black kind of Yours
And quake when the infernal splendour shall breathe out by the moonbeam
Bow before th' eternal helot
>From now you shall endure endlessly
Lust, whilst the Night obtains a shadow, 's been sent to old forts
And between nine deaths and three moons, I shall deny that I ever saw the lands of red and serenity
And I tried to be alone, at my last forever dawn
When the sacrifice will be, oh I'll be bleeding
before thee
And I tried tobe alone, the solitude I own
Your name I shall divine, heaven is thine
When the sun won't rise again
The quietism of my heart's done
When the sun returns to me
I'll fall into despondency
And I tried to be alone, at my last forever dawn
When the sacrifice will be, oh I'll be bleeding
before thee
And I tried to be alone, the solitude I own
Your name I shall divine, heaven is thine
Fire, comes from a northern sea
Thanatos fills my eyes
Ashes Thy black of wrath
A stone broke the sky
