

Drag Me Away

Melissa Etheridge

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

Did you think that I was leaving? My ticket was just one way
The angels I believed in were gonna carry me away
Did you think that I would simply give them my last breath?
Well honey, you've got me wrong, I'd never leave you for death
It's gonna take more than that to get rid of me
It's gonna take more than that to make me fade
Oh, they'll have to tie me up and drag me away
They'll have to shut my mouth and drag me away, hey, hey
There is no one I serve and I am not here to please
I will not be a hostage to my own disease
Oh, come on, come on, come on, come on and hold me
Out into the great sunlight
No power on earth can stop us, we both become one tonight
I've never been more sure of anything
I've never been more sure of what I am
They'll have to tie me up and drag me away
They'll have to shut my mouth and drag me away
There is no dark that can overcome a flame
There is no force that can drag me away
Drag me away, oh, they'll never drag me away
They could bring an army, ten thousand men or more
Their massive weapons of destruction won't even up the score
Come on, come on, come on, come on, come on,
baby
They'll have to drag me away
Come on, come on, come on, come on, baby
They'll have to drag me away
They'll have to drag me away
They'll have to drag me away, hey, hey, hey
They'll have to tie me up and drag me away, hey
Oh, they'll have to shut my mouth and drag me away
No dark that can overcome a flame
And no force that can drag me away
No dark that can overcome a flame
There's no force that can drag me away
