

Father Baker's

Deicide

There exists a place of agony
Where children are held captive
Belt across the back, the nuns attack
Believe in God or be beaten to deathWork to earn your keep, no time to sleep
You better know the Bible verse
Or go without and die of thirst
Resent your birth, thanks to GodAt Father Baker's, the pain is divine
If you are lucky you'll get out aliveWelcome to terror, you're where you belong
Father is waiting to show you, you're wrong
Learn early on to behave or you'll dieLive with his torture, no one to confide
Innocence lost by the rage he inflicts
Repent to God or the pain will persistKept inside a cage, humiliate
Till father takes confession
Whipped unmercifully and left to bleed
And by the end to be one with GodFast you into place, the final phase
Before you meet his maker
Do as you are told or you will go
And then you'll know what is sufferingAt Father Baker's, the pain is divine
If you are lucky you'll get out aliveWelcome to terror, you're where you belong
Father is waiting to show you, you're wrong
Learn early on to behave or you'll dieLive with his torture, no one to confide
Innocence lost by the rage he inflicts
Repent to God or the pain will persist
