

Exclusively

Jill Scott

Hello, hello, hello, hello, hello, hello,

Hello, hello, hello, hello, hello, hello,

Hello

Mmm, this morning my man exclusively introduced me

To some good extra loving

He was licking, and sucking on everything, just the way he should

This morning's extra loving was good

We lay there sweaty, sex funky, happy as we want to be

Loving exclusively, my man and me all night all morning

So our stomachs were growling, hungrily

So I jumped up and rushed to the store

In hopes of coming back and getting a little more of

This morning's good extra loving

At the market the people were pushing and shoving

Trying to be the next in line, the turn was mine

The new girl at the counter was cute, but not as fine as me

Was this some kind of woman's intuition, some kind of insecurity

Nah, 'cause my man is happy at home loving me exclusively

So I shook my head, "whats up?"

"Hello," she smiled as she rung me up

Orange juice $3.29, Croissants $4.85

She sniffed, Butter 89 cents

She sniffed, Strawberries $1.50 a pint

She sniffed, and sniffed, and sniffed, and sniffed again

And then replied, "Raheem, right?"

"Right."

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>