

Walking In Circles

Input

It doesn't have to be the same story told from a different mouth
Cold as the winter's clouds, broken and hallowed out Another force to be reckoned with openly admitted to the clinic for obsessive shit Im stuck on the battle plan driving through the cattle lands Hoping that tomorrow sees the optimism that I have Off to another night clustered by lovely lights subsidized by angels for the simple fact they love to fight
Is it worth the time and effort to illuminate the problems that we grew to hate relationships we mutilate
The fact of the matter is a plastic cadaver the heart is just a muscle that we decimate and batter Bruised and defeated the truth is a secret conveyed as a mutual disturbance that we sleep with the eyes are the window to a better place but easily distracted when the feelings start to separate

Chorus:

Im out of luck and im in another tight squeeze
Another run at a moment that defines me
My only chance to get away from running nightly
And put an end to depending on what might be
Im out of luck and im in another tight squeeze
Another run at a moment that defines me
My only chance to get away from running nightly
And put an end to depending on what might be

It doesn't have to be the story that's been talked about Its just a conversation piece while were walking out How I'm torn with the knowledge of my fathers life
How to afford it but I'll make it if I walk it right
How you appreciate the people who forgot me
Ordinary offspring living by the clocks speed
Hop a train to a city that accepts those simple human beings That inspire what weve let go
If our shadows could speak they would only discuss our problems while we sleep saving who we want to be making life a comedy the bullseye is gone from the places that you targeted don't immediately think its the end of this I disagree with beliefs in your penmanship
I don't even want to argue over nonsense

Im moving forward while your weighing all your options

Chorus:

Im out of luck and im in another tight squeeze
Another run at a moment that defines me
My only chance to get away from running nightly
And put an end to depending on what might be
Im out of luck and im in another tight squeeze
Another run at a moment that defines me
My only chance to get away from running nightly
And put an end to depending on what might be

If I donâ€™t go im walking in circles
If I donâ€™t leave im walking in circles
If I donâ€™t go im walking in circles
If I donâ€™t leave im walking in circles
If I donâ€™t go im walking in circles
If I donâ€™t leave im walking in circles
If I donâ€™t go im walking in circles
If I donâ€™t leave im walking in circles

Chorus:

Im out of luck and im in another tight squeeze
Another run at a moment that defines me
My only chance to get away from running nightly
And put an end to depending on what might be
Im out of luck and im in another tight squeeze
Another run at a moment that defines me
My only chance to get away from running nightly
And put an end to depending on what might be
