Nights And Weekends

The Starting Line

At 4 A.M. she came out of the blue
I haven't seen such red since I've seen you
I'm upset, but I'm fine
I'm just surprised you're so unemotional
She said, in reply,
"and I did some drinking and it's got me thinking of you"

I've saved some words I'd like to give to you
They flew behind the plane for all to view
And it read in bold type -
"I won't be surprised if you're unemotional"
You're burnt red, I'm pale white
Inspired, depressed, and still unimpressed

Well I could read you're lips, but they don't make sense
They both scream kiss when your eyes don't yet
They don't yet, they don't yet

And I've said...
I've been thinking a lot about you (and I said, "the phone hasn't rang 'til today")
Is it true, do you hate me? (and the nights and the weekends fray)
'Cause she said, "I've been thinking a lot about you (but I know that you're time isn't cheap)
Is it true, do you hate me?" (on the nights and the weekends)

Well I could read you're lips, but they don't make sense
They both scream kiss when your eyes don't yet
Well I could read you're lips, but they don't make sense
They both scream kiss when your eyes don't yet
They don't yet, they don't yet

I've been thinking a lot about you (I said, "the phone hasn't rang 'til today")
Is it true, do you hate me? (and the nights and the weekends fray)
'Cause she said, "I've been thinking a lot about you (but I know that you're time isn't cheap)
Is it true, do you hate me?" (on the nights and the weekends)

At 5 A.M. I came out of the blue
And I raised my voice as high as I could to you
You said, "Please Ken, let's not fight"
I'm just surprised I've stayed on the phone this long
And I said, in reply, "it's easy to lie when you're so unemotional"

When so unemotional, oh

'Cause I've been thinking a lot about you (and I said, "the phone hasn't rang 'til today")
Is it true, do you hate me? (and the nights and the weekends fray)
'Cause she said, "I've been thinking a lot about you (but I know that you're time isn't cheap)
Is it true, do you hate me?" (on the nights and the weekends)
Oh yeah, 'cause she said, "I've been thinking a lot about you (and I said, "the phone hasn't rang 'til today")
Is it true, do you hate me?" (and the nights and the weekends fray)
Oh yeah, 'cause she said, "I've been thinking a lot about you (but I know that you're time isn't cheap)
Is it true, do you hate me?" (on the nights and the weekends)
(the nights and the weekends)
