

Suspended In You

Skillet

Thought You'd put me in a box
Thought You'd push me into a clump
Make me smaller than I was before
Thought You'd press me, mold me in Took a step and felt the pressure on
Exploding me into open space
Now You pull me apart, I'm suspended in You
Stretch me bigger, reveal Yourself to be
Frame that holds me tightly in center
Pulled into suspension in the middle of You
Let what was hidden be revealed
Walls of fear broken wide
Infinite Jesus spread all in You
Towering over the mountains
And stretching through the horizons
Gushing with surrender in Your hands
Now You pull me apart, I'm suspended in You
Stretch me bigger, reveal Yourself to be
Frame that holds me tightly in center
Pulled into suspension in the middle of You
Now You pull me apart, I'm suspended in You
Stretch me bigger, reveal Yourself to be
Frame that holds me tightly in center
Pulled into suspension in the middle of You
Now You pull me apart, I'm suspended in You
Stretch me bigger, reveal Yourself to be
Frame that holds me tightly in center
Pulled into suspension in the middle of You
Now You pull me apart, stretch me bigger
Frame that holds me tightly in center
Pulled into suspension in the middle of You
