Just a Touch

R. Kelly

Baby, what do I look like to you?
I look like a fool to you?I was on my way
To getting close to you
Until you flipped the script on me
Another personalityI was just that close
To putting karats in your ring
Until I peeped your card
Now you threw it before you started, babyI was just a touch away
From playing the fool for you
Till you lost my trust
And now I got to back this thing on upI was just a touch away
From playing the fool for you
Till you lost my trust
And now I got to back this thing on up, babeYou were almost in
About to take you home with me
Until you opened up my eyes
And showed me your other sideYou were inches from the room
Just about to take control
Now that I know it was all an act
I gots to get that bracelet backI was just a touch away
From playing the fool for you
Till you lost my trust
And now I got to back this thing on upI was just a touch away
From playing the fool for you
Till you lost my trust
And now I got to back this thing on up, babeWhat made you think you could lie to me?
Baby and get away with it
Come back down to reality
When it comes to love you just don't get itI was just a touch away
From playing the fool for you
Till you lost my trust
And now I got to back this thing on upI was just a touch away
From playing the fool for you
Till you lost my trust
And now I got to back this thing on up, babeI was just a touch away
From playing the fool for you
Till you lost my trust
And now I got to back this thing on upHaving never lived like a lap full of G's
When all the time you was just trying trap me

Closer, and closer, and closer to me
Trying to get rooted like the ground and treesNow I wanna get tight like the harmonies
All you wanna do is just scheme, scheme, scheme
Riding in my gators sittin' on my things
Drinking and smoking up all myI was just a touch away
From playing the fool for you
Till you lost my trust
And now I got to back this thing on upI was just a touch away
From playing the fool for you
Till you lost my trust
And now I got to back this thing on up, babeI was just a touch away
From playing the fool for you
Till you lost my trust
And now I got to back this thing on upI was just a touch away
From playing the fool for you
Till you lost my trust
And now I got to back this thing on up, babeI was just a touch away
From playing the fool for you
Till you lost my trust
And now I got to back this thing on upI was just a touch away
From playing the fool for you
