

Should've Been, Could've Been

Moloko

Some of you will already know there's no place to go
This is the modern man as good as I am
Here in the heart of the sun, my memory melts
Swellegant, elephant pain, he never forgets Should've been a beautiful thing
Could've been a beautiful thing Pull over to the side of the road, let the bold be bold
Luxury at a low introductory price, now wouldn't that be nice?
A happy little family puts you in a trance meanwhile back at the ranch
Insatiable hand-held flexible friend, why not give him a chance? Could've been a beautiful thing
Should've been, could've been a beautiful thing Promises of pleasure mesmerized but how far can we get?
At least here in the eye of the storm, I won't get my hair do wet
Some of you have already foreseen yourself undone
Some of you seem to believe, you've only just begun Try a little perjury, get rich quick
My eyes are bigger than my belly is and it makes me sick
Attitude, so much to prove, should've been a beautiful thing
Some of you will already know and I'm still wondering Should've been a beautiful thing
Could've been a beautiful thing I could've been, should've been Could've been a beautiful thing Could've been a beautiful thing
Should've been, would've been a beautiful thing How we love to disguise?

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>