

Real Life

Tahuna Breaks

All the things I've tried
And even after all of my fair lives
But do you find the hope to help a dreamer cope
With the burden of the hush reality?

So there's beforehand to find the promised land
And no featuring and promise never made

Whoa whoa, life has let you down
Whoa whoa, life has let you down

Should I stay or should I follow? Should I follow?
Or do I set my spirit free?
Sometimes the pressure is so overwhelming
To be forgotten in misery

Carefully I leave the life from my fears
Troubled by the droppings of the world
An educative man with his sophisticated plan
For happiness there is no guarantee

Oh, you tend the love and care
Don't you bring your dreams from here?
This ain't the way my story suppose to go

Whoa whoa, life has let you down
Whoa whoa, life has let you down

Should I stay or should I follow? Should I follow?
Or do I set my spirit free?
Sometimes the pressure is so overwhelming
To be forgotten in misery

Lyrics submitted by HomAfromPTZ.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnllyrics.com/>