Where Youâ€™re At

Allen Stone

I keep my dirt on the surface so you don't gotta dig
The people didn't make me nervous, tried to hide all their sins
And I've got no reason to cover my tracks
The best part of learning is just loving where you're atSo love where you're at, yeah, love where you're at
And keep your dirt on the surface and just love where you're atI wear my sins on my collar so everyone sees
And there ain't no bother in spreading rumors about me
I ain't no angel, but I ain't so bad
And the best part of learning is just loving where you're atSo love where you're at, yeah love where you're at
And keep your dirt on the surface and just love where you're at
So love where you're at, yeah love where you're at
And keep your dirt on the surface and just love where you're at
So love where you're at, yeah love where you're at
And keep your dirt on the surface and just love where you're at
So love where you're at, yeah love where you're at
And keep your dirt on the surface and just love where you're at
