Not What I Had In Mind

Kelly Willis

It's not what I had in mind
Lovin' you now that you're no longer mine
No, it's not what I had in mind
Letting you go and then crossin' that lineI've fallen under some spell an' I wonder
What is the right thing to do
I've been here before and I've never been sure
But I'm still in love with youOh, but it's not what I had in mind
Lovin' you now that you're no longer mine
No, it's not what I had in mind
Letting you go and then crossin' that lineTime has weakened my will
And changed how I feel
An' I want you stillWell, I'm fallin' over myself to get closer
To you and I shouldn't want to
But I can't deny how, you make me feel right now
I'm still in love with youOh, but it's not what I had in mind
Lovin' you now that you're no longer mine
No, it's not what I had in mind
Letting you go and then crossin' that lineIt's not, in mind
Lovin' you now
No, it's not, in mind
Letting you go
