

You Are My Everything

Aaron Gillespie

When my head is spinnin round
This whole world has brought me down
    There's one thing I know
When my life is screamin loud
    I look up towards the clouds
    Your grace lets me know
Your grace here lets me know
    I'm alive because you said
    I could believe
    I'm not alone because your love is everything I need
When my world comes crashing down
    There's just one thing I've found
    You are You are my everything
    With everything ounce of my soul
    I wanna let you know
    It's in you I'm found
    With every beat of my heart
I know that you're giving me a start
    One that is brand new
    Now I'm calling out to you
I'm alive because you saidI could believe
    I'm not alone because your
        love is everything I need
When my world comes crashing down
    There's just one thing I've found
    You are You are my everything
        my everything
    In my day you're everything
    In my night you're everything
    In my world you're everything
    In my heart you're everything
    In my soul you're everything
    In my life you're everything
    I'm alive because you said
        I could believe
    I'm not alone because your
        love is everything I need
When my world comes crashing down

There's just one thing I've found
You are You are my everything
my everything
