

Ulakanakulot

Virgin Prunes

See the children play by Running try to touch the sky
When one falls you hear a cry
"You're dead, you're dead, you must die"
"Take a dream and fly away," she will call
They will wait for you not I, see me crawl

And sometimes I feel so old
I never smile nor do cry
Shadows flicker from above
"Seeker save your soul," she said

She will fly, she will fly
He will wait far away
A golden key to open the door
Behind which the answer lies
You sinned in dreams
Now awake in deeper, deeper dreams
"Take a dream and fly away," she will call
They won't wait for you not I, they will wait for you not I
See me crawl, she will fly far away.

Decline and fall
Never return
Die
Die

Lyrics powered by lyrics.tancode.com written by EVANS, RICHARD GARVIN / HANVEY, FIONAN MARTIN / KELLY, DAVID JOHN / ROWEN, DEREK MARY KARL / ROWEN, TREVOR BERNARD / WATSON, DAVID

Lyrics Â© Universal Music Publishing Group

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>