

Love Strikes

Katharine McPhee

Summer fades and winter takes its cherry place
That's what I have seen
Love is failure and I never will erase
That's what I believed
Love strikes once, and one time only
All I have is broken dreams inside of me
But my hands chase love when I'm surround you
And what you see is how my colors creed
Love is striking me Thought I'd spend my greatest years cuddle up alone
Without someone to kiss my neck
Thought I feared the winter cold ???
'Cause I wouldn't hurt the family that I dream since I was born
Love strikes once, and one time only
All I have is broken dreams inside of me
But my hands chase love when I'm surround you
And what you see is how my colors creed
Love is striking me You came light,
But I left the light on for you babe
Never let my hurt burn my hope away
Now I give you all I saved
Summer fades and winter take its cherry place
But now look at the smile on my face, oh oh oh Has love now striking me?

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>