

Everything Is a Song

JJ Grey & Mofro

I, I just heard those angels sing
So many voices all arranged
In one big harmony
So now, everywhere I look, I smile
Its like I'm hearing for the first time
Oh, they're singing to meAnd now I'm rolling in her arms
Shes singing to me
Every blade of grass from every tree
The world it came alive with the color of spring
Its got me singing long
'Cause everything is A song
Everything is A songI look forever out into the sky
I hear the hue of blue so loud
A seashell for my earAll the joy, the joy, the joy
The joy with no opposite
Is serenading me a sonnet
That I can finally hearAnd now I'm rolling in her arms
Shes singing to me
Every blade of grass from every tree
The world it came alive with the color of spring
Its got me singing long
'Cause everything is A song - oh yeahNo I ain't about to hear a thing to take me away from this day
I've been waiting for this moment
All of my life, all of my, all of my lifeSo listen, listen to the falling rain
As sweet of sound as sugar cane
A symphony for meOh, I pray, I pray, I pray
I pray that you can hear it too
In the silence that's surrounding you
I'll meet you there, oh yeah!And now I'm rolling in her arms
Shes singing to me
Every blade of grass from every tree
A whisper to a shout
Lord as deep as the sea
Got me singing long
Everything is A songI can hear the pine trees sing to the sun
I can hear the birds they're all having fun
I'm going to sing along to the rhythm of one
Singing along

'Cause Everything is A song

Lyrics provided by <https://damnlrics.com/>