Can't Depend

Sebadoh

Held on a long tine before
I handed it to you
Hoping that one day I'd be strong again
The last thing that you said just strikes me odd everytime
And then the daydreams start to scurry inAnd I'm afraid that it's too dark to call
I'm too high for you and you're tired of it all
Said I'm the cause of all your doubts
In trying to figure how I would defend myselfHoney I can't depend on you
You never do the things that you say you're going to
::Said that when it comes to me
You don't know what to believeIn the insubstantial land of make believe
I wonder just how wrong we can make it seem
Feeling like you are never heard
Think I don't know what you're worth
