Tuff Love

mctuff

A little bit of love a little bit of love
Is not enough but its not to tuff
To give a little bit of love a little bit of happiness
To give a little smile if only for a whileSitting by the river watching my life go by
I can be bigger but its up for me to try
Now its time to make up my mindA little bit of peace, a little bit of peace
Is not enough but its not to tuff
To give a little bit of hope settle for nothing less
In your heart thats where you gotta startIts really just a moment everything youre going through
If you ever need me Ill be there for you
Now its time to make up your mind(Tuff love)The love in your heart wasnt put there to stay
Now love is enough til you give it away
So why dont we start giving todayA little more light thats what love will bring
A little more joy a little less suffering
A little more hope will get you through
A little more truth inside of you
A little more love a little bit of peace
Is not enough but its not too tuff
To give a little love a little bit of happiness
A little bit of hope settle for nothing less
And now its time to make up your mind
And now its time to make up your mind
And now its time to make up your mind
And now its time to make up your mind
