

The Usual Time

Steve Earle

It's late in the evening
Just about to lay down
What's that at your backdoor
Did you hear a strange sound, girl? Honey I just saw your light
Here I come baby
It's the usual time of the night I can't help but want you
Ever since I known ya
I would never hurt you
I don't want to own you Girl, I just want to hold you tight
Here I come baby
It's the usual time of the night I know you don't love me
I know you don't need me
If you ever want me
Just hit on your back porch light
At the usual time of the night Now I been down to Texas
I been to New Orleans
I was born a Rambler
You are gonna haunt my dreams
Any time the wound gets right
Here I come baby
It's the usual time of the night I know you don't love me
I know you don't need me
If you ever want me
Just leave on your back porch light
At the usual time of night Here I come
Here I come baby
