

Mina Loy (Moh)

Billy Corgan

The siren calls outside
They want to kill us all
Innocents, wounded souls
Full of rageNowhere to go
Consequences be they may
I resolve to never change
I so vow to never yieldCan I give my old heart to you?
Can I give my old heart to you?
'Cause when this feeling starts
That's when I blow it all awayHere, you're born, they'll say
To die afraid, to lie awakeIt's plain the wars have won
The days of judgment rise
Innocents, wounded souls
How could they know they're burning cold?Paranoias be they may
I resolve to never changeCan I give my old heart to you?
Can I give my old heart to you?
Can I give my old heart to you?
'Cause when this feeling starts
That's when I rip it all apartAlright! The end's in sight
We're born to die one thousand timesI'm just one wish away
I'm just one wish away from you kid
I'm just one wish away
I'm just one wish away from you kidI'm not so innocent
I'm not so innocent now kidCan I give my old heart to you?
Can I give my old heart to you?My old heart
My old heart
My old heart
My old heart
