Love's Unkind

Donna Summer

Well I seem him every morning in the schoolyard
'Fore the school bell rings
And when he passes in the hallway
Well he doesn't seem to notice me
He's got a crush on my best friend, but she don't care
'Cause she loves someone else
I'm standing on the outside
Not the inside where I wanna be
Love's unkind, love's unkind
Love's unkind, love's unkind
'Cause he's not mine
Just the other day I was praying
He would give me a chance
Hoping he would choose me for his partner
For the high school dance
I was standing outside the class
But it wasn't me, but my best friend, he asked
I went running back inside teary-eyed

And left the two of them behind
Love's unkind, love's unkind
Love's unkind, love's unkind
'Cause he's not mine
Oh I love him so
I can't even let him know
'Cause he loves my best friend
But she don't care, she loves someone else
And I asked my mama and she said
"Love's unkind, love's so unkind"
She said, "Just keep it mind
'Cause you may find love's unkind"
Love's unkind, love's unkind
Love's unkind, love's unkind
Why does he like to leave so
Why do I have to love him so
