

You And Me

Tammy Wynette

I can hear the rain, it's falling softly
As I watch him lying next to me
I can feel his heart is beating softly
He just loved me so tenderly
But it should be you and me When he touches me, I feel your fingers
And each time we kiss, I see your face
When he locks the door behind us
Then he thinks the world can't find us
But he can't see, no, he can't see
That it should be you and me So I'll just close my eyes and dream about you
'Cause every time I dream, you're always there
Then you'll lock the door behind us
And in my dreams the world can't find us
It will be so real to me
It's finally you and me
