Hide

Desiree Dawson

Let your head hang low, let your eyes fall heavy, you can jump you won't fall arms wide open I'll be ready,
Let your ego melt fast, let your smile stay bright, you can hold my hand a tiny grip through all this night

So let me be the roots, you need let me help you grow let me help you succeed, know that you are loved not just by me.
See my heart open wide so why do you get scared and why do you hide it
Why do you hide it x2
Why do you hide?

Let your doubts crash int
Pieces negativity needs its releases And know I know deep IN You, you just want love love what you do, but pressure hits you like a blanket ego wants to fill the bank but the bank In Your heart will always be buried if you don't start the love you start to carry

So let me be the roots you need let me help you grow let me help you succeed, know that you are loved not just by me.
See my heart open wide so why do you get scared and why do you hide it
Why do you hide it
Why do you hide? Why do you hide from love
