Destiny's To Come

W.a.s.p.

There's a new world
I see it coming here after you
If you knew where and when it was coming
Maybe you'd know, know you're through
New world, it's all been changing
There's nothing you can do
It's a new time disciples arranging
The pay-per-view end of you
Goodbye my Neon Dion, my darkness
My Neon God of Eden's so blind
Because I wish away all of your sorrows
I wash my hands of your life
Ain't nothing that can change a thing
Nothing can change our destinies
You were forewarned
I'd betray you for everything that you'd do
You're leaving this world
Don't let me stop your destruction of you
Goodbye my Neon Dion, my darkness
My Neon God of Eden's so blind
Because I wish away all of your sorrows
I wash my hands of your life
Ain't nothing that can change a thing
Nothing can blame your death to be
Nothing can change our destinies to come
Destinies to come, destinies to come
Could you do more
Oh, if only someone ever loved you
You could've been someone
The world's waiting, oh, testament of your truth
New day
A new world is coming no resurrection's due
Oh, well give' em tickets
To the crucifixion, oh, the last of you
Goodbye my Neon Dion, my darkness
My Neon God of Eden's so blind
Because I wish away all of your sorrows
I wash my hands of your life
Ain't nothing that can change a thing

Nothing can blame your death to be
Nothing can change our destinies to come
Destinies to come, destinies to come

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/