

At Least (little Things)

Kelly Price

I'm on my way back to Atlanta
About to start a new life 'cause I can't take it here
It seems like the more we fight the more the pressure
I'm in this lonely house sitting high up on a hill Pressin' the buttons on the control
Flipping through channels on TV
Wondering when you're coming home
And take care of family At least you can call and say I'm busy
At least you can say I'm running late
At least you can give some kind of notice
Let somebody know that you're okay At least you can take some time to phone
At least you can just one day stay home
At least you can take me out to eat
If you love me, you would've done those things You won't miss me till I'm gone
Impossible to drink from a well that's gone dry, yeah
And every night you come in singing the same old song
How could you do me wrong when you know it ain't right, baby Pressin' the buttons on the control
Flipping through channels on TV
Wondering when you're coming home
And take care of family At least you can call and say I'm busy
At least you can say I'm running late
At least you can give some kind of notice
Let somebody know that you're okay At least you can take some time to phone
At least you can just one day stay home
At least you can take me out to eat
If you love me, you would've done those things Take in a movie show, a carnival, a place to go, we can be alone
But instead I'm staring at these matching walls
The weekends spent, a compliment, flowers sent would've kept me at home
But now instead I'm packing my bags and I'm gone, yeah At least you can call and say I'm busy
At least you can say I'm running late
At least you can give some kind of notice
Let somebody know that you're okay At least you can take some time to phone
At least you can just one day stay home
At least you can take me out to eat
If you love me, you would've done those things At least you can call and say I'm busy
At least you can say I'm running late
At least you can give some kind of notice
Let somebody know that you're okay At least you can take some time to phone
At least you can just one day stay home
At least you can take me out to eat

If you love me, you would've done those things
All I wanted was a smile
For you to stay a little while
It's too late for it
'Cause you forgot the little things
At least you can take some time to phone
At least you can just one day stay home
At least you can take me out to eat
If you love me, you would've done those things
At least you can call and say I'm busy
At least you can say I'm running late
At least you can give some kind of notice
Let somebody know that you're okay
At least you can take some time to phone
At least you can just one day stay home
At least you can take me out to eat
If you love me, you would've done those things
