You Don't Know

Fighting Instinct

Your eyes are watching me closely
Somehow you think that you're not seen
You look through me in deep thought
But all that's on your mind is my unreal faultsYou don't know
You don't know me
You don't know
You don't know meI know what's going through your mind
You think my surroundings have me blind
I know my motives are pure and true
You need to focus on what's best for youYou don't know
You don't know me
You don't know
You don't know meI tried to show you
But you think you know
And you know that assumptions
Won't get you far with meYou don't know
You don't know me
You don't know
You don't know meYou don't
You don't know
