Portals Of Light

Falconer

I sit here by your side and weep you goodbye
I'm singing songs of sorrow for you, true gentle rose of mine
Upon my arm I've tied a ribbon in black
Although I know too well that this will not ever bring you backI feel so astray inside
As I know you're far away
Let my love shine and be your guide
On your way towards the portals of lightA lonely candle burns for you my only love
Meanwhile you roam the clouds among, heaven's angels high above
What is there left to live for as you've gone away?
Hope's lost forevermore, I'll mourn you 'til the end of daysI feel so astray inside
As I know you're far away
Let my love shine and be your guide
On your way towards the portals of lightHear my love, hear my cry of deepest grief
As I weep for you eternally
Praying for your soul and for light and for relief
As I shed your tears of miseryI feel so astray inside
As I know you're far away
Let my love shine and be your guide
On your way towards the portals of lightI feel so astray inside
As I know you're far away
Let my love shine and be your guide
On your way towards the portals of light
