No Lookin' Back

Michael McDonald

I'm fading out of sight
My wheels are the only sound
Running at the speed of light
I can't slow downOut on the open road
Racing to beat the night
No matter where I go
I guess I'll get there all rightSo why don't I understand
What's tripping me up
It used to be a simple thingI can't hold on, I can't return
Time to let go, start to live and learnI took a one way flight
Too high to see the ground
Now I know how long it takes
A heart to come downSo why don't I understand
What's tripping' me up
I know it ought to be a simple thingI can't hold on, I can't return
Time to let go, start to live and learnI can't hold on, I can't return
Rivers will run, bridges will burn
I'm not sure just how
But there's no looking' back now
