Where Angels Fall

Terminal Sect

what did you do to me? x3

I have trouble sleeping at night bad dreams falling wake up scared sometimes ....where i am (...)man is all thats left if your frightened of dying and you give up you'll see devils tearing your life away porcealin thin flying without sin music box heart sworn words within the thief of innocence chills me from the bone lurking on the wings i nerves and muscles hide ... a teardrop stain on a suicide note writing memories on the wall inclining on the beach can't wash that feeling away project nelly has a broken heart behind your walls behind your shrines you hide your scar

.....
you pull yourself apart x4

and i can see behind your eyes and thats where angels fall and i can see what you want thats where angels fall

and i can see behind your eyes and thats where angels fall i can see what you want thats where angels fall now what? i think he's still alive what did you do to me? what did you do to me?

If your frightened of dying and you're holding on you'll see devils tearing your life away (what did you do to me) if you've made your peace then the devils will be angels freeing you of the earth

...this room built to heal scrape your knuckles to the bone too far apart to feel you can't touch what isn't real, it's so cold in here somewhere from the other side a voice comes to my ear a sacrificial lamb open a fear take the knife like a mean streak its really to sincere run away scared its no place they can go how was i supposed to know? how could you not know?

This little girl who never cried, offered me her doll, no legs and missing an eye

She wanted to know if it had died so i pulled on a loose string and out came all her insides and out came all her insides X6 i can see behind your gray eyes thats why angels fall i can see what you want thats why angels fall X3

what did you do to me? x3

if your frightened of dying and your holding on you'll see devils tearing your life away if you've made your peace, then the devils are really angels, freeing you from the earth

what did you do to me x6

It was a devilborn
it was a devilborn
(whispering)
It was a devilborn

It's a devilborn (repeats)
...a devil born

what did you do to me? x2

if your frightened of dying and your holding on, you'll see devils tearing your life away
