

Flutes

MLO

I know it's nothing more then flutes
But something in my heart is loose
    There's never been a better day
    And if there is nothing more
Then nothing more will add us say
    There's never been a better day
    Work that inside outside
    Work that more
    Work that right side left side
    More that more
Inside outside left side work the floor
Inside outside up top down with more
    Work that inside outside
    Work that more
Work that right side left side more that more
    Inside outside left side work the floor
    Inside outside up top down with more
    I put up on a string today
    Deciding never taught me a thing
    A wooden box breathes the way
        Never again
        Never again
        Never again
        Never again
    All this talk is getting me down
    Nothing's making sense in my brain
    I'm moving words in coarse of today
        Trying hard to fix through the pain
    I'm waiting to the thought that we came
        Only to discover I'm aged
    And blow a quart of love in your fame
        And watch things drop down

        And watch things drop down
        And watch things drop down
        And watch things drop down
    All this talk is getting me down
    Nothing's making sense in my brain
    I'm moving words in coarse of today

Trying hard to fix through the pain
I'm waiting to the thought that we came
Only to discover I'm aged
And blow a quart of love in your fame
And watch things drop down
One day you might realize
That you might need to open your eyes
One day you might realize
That you might need to open your eyes
Work that inside outside
Work that more
More that more
Inside outside left side work the floor
Inside outside up top down with more
Work that inside outside
Work that more
Inside outside left side work the floor
Inside outside up top down with more
One day you might realize
That you might need to open your eyes
One day you might realize
That you might need to open your eyes
