

Scared As Fuck

An Horse

I'm not really scared
I just like the way that those words sound
When they fall from my mouth
And I say them to you out aloud Sometimes my hands
Clap louder than everyone else
But that's the way it stands
If I want to clap the loudest But I got so scared
That you might be
A better me than me You can take my socks
But you damn well better leave my gloves
'Cause I need my hands
To be warm like everybody else's Once my hands are warm
I can give them to you and say
Please do all you can
But my fingerprints will stay the same But I got so scared
That you might be
A better me than me Yeah, I got so scared
That you might be
A better me than me But we know someone who got so scared
At the supermarket and you were there
And I get to hold their hand
'Cause they'll get scared again
They'll get scared again I'm not really scared
I'm not really scared
I'm not really scared
I'm not really scared I'm not really scared
I'm not really scared
I'm not really scared
I'm not really scared
