Of Mind And Matter

Lagwagon

They spoke bravely
It opened our eyes
We swallowed their pride
A new era
So whee is the new advise
It seems the older methods no longer suffice
The very oldeest if thoughts cast into the mold of these new times Vindictive, he raises his fist
The animal is instinctive Everyone desires peace
but indread of war, still arms increase Perpetual with only one end
When that savage nature destroys them all
All is written
All is forgiven
All is lived again
After all, this worthless progress is progress made for change
After all these vain advances does that concerned animal value his life?
Cornered
Human nature alive
