A Whatever Life

Haylie Duff

Did I hear you say, "Whatever"?
Turn and walk away forever
Was it my mistake or did we just get too close?
Well, till we meet again, I think you better learnTo live for the sake of living
Love till your heart is breaking
Give your all and don't hold back
Tell the truth and don't forget to laugh till your body's achingCry till your hands are shaking
Wherever you go, whatever you do
Don't live a whatever lifeBetcha think it's cool
To never care about the things that matter
Was it just a dream or did we feel something real?
You'll be all alone until you finally startTo live for the sake of living
Love till your heart is breaking
Give your all and don't hold back
Tell the truth and don't forget to laugh till your body's achingCry till your hands are shaking
Wherever you go, whatever you do
Don't live a whatever life
(Whatever, whatever)It's been a long time waiting till I'm moving on I'm ready to be strongAnd live for the sake of living
Love till your heart is breaking
Give your all and don't hold back
Tell the truth and don't forget to laugh till your body's achingCry till your hands are shaking
Wherever you go, whatever you do
Don't live a whatever lifeLive for the sake of living
Love till your heart is breaking
Laugh till your body's aching
Cry till your hands are shaking
(A whatever life)Live for the sake of living
Love till your heart is breaking
Laugh till your body's aching
Cry till your hands are shakingWhatever you do
Don't live a whatever life
